BBVA
Hybrid Memory Income Autocall June 2019 GBP
Factsheet

INVESTMENT DESCRIPTION

A 6 year investment linked to the performance of the Swedish, US and Chinese Indices.

If on any of the semi-annual observation dates, including the Final Observation date, the closing levels of all the Underlyings are at or above 80% of their initial levels, the Income Rate will be paid plus any previously missed income payments.

If on any semi-annual observation date (including the Final Observation date), starting at 12 months, all of the Underlyings are at or above their initial levels, the investment will autocall. Initial capital plus the Autocall Coupon Rate for each semi-annual period which has elapsed is paid and the investment will end.

At the Final Observation date, if all Underlyings are at or above 60% of their initial levels, then full capital is returned. If any Underlying is below 60% of its original level, capital return will be reduced on a 1-for-1 basis. For example if the worst performing Underlying has fallen to 40% of its original level, 40% of the capital will be returned.

BENEFITS

- Opportunity for regular income payments even where the Underlyings show significant falls plus additional snowballing coupons if autocalled.
- A memory feature, whereby income previously unpaid, will be included when the income trigger is next activated.
- Autocall feature potentially shortens the investment term and is triggered by minimal growth.
- Early maturity provides an opportunity to re-assess client's wealth strategy.
- Daily pricing.

RISKS

- The return is limited to the pre-defined investment terms.
- The income and autocall payments are conditional upon the Underlying performance.
- Investors will be exposed to the credit risk of the Issuer. If the Issuer becomes insolvent or cannot make the payments on the Product for any other reason, investors could lose some or all of their investment. A decline in the Issuers credit quality is likely to reduce the market value of the Product and therefore the price an investor may receive for the Product if they were to sell them in the market.
- There is a risk to capital should one of the Underlyings breach the capital protection barrier on its Final Observation date.
- Should investors need to sell their investment before maturity, the trading price will likely mean they get back less than they invested.

RATIONALE

Structured products are becoming increasingly popular for investors due to the wide variety of payoffs and levels of protection that can be achieved by the different types of structures that are available.

The opportunity for an income stream can be of key importance to investors as part of their wealth planning. The probability of an income payment being triggered is increased with this investment as an Underlying needs to show a fall of 20% from its initial level on any observation date before the income stream is disrupted.

The investment also benefits from a memory feature so that if any income payments have missed being paid, they will catch-up the next time all Underlyings are above 80% of their initial levels on an observation date.

The three Underlyings detailed overleaf have been selected in order to support the anticipated delivery of that income and the additional autocall payments available.

The autocall payoff can bring an early return of capital plus additional coupon payments allowing the opportunity for a re-assessment of investment strategy. The value of this feature cannot be underestimated as it brings with it the opportunity to secure capital value, as well as the chance to take advantage of future market trends.

To manage the capital risk, a final level barrier set at 60% means an Underlying must fall by more than 40% over 6 years before capital is at risk.

- Understand the impact of global economic issues and how they will affect the product.
- Understand the criteria which will determine the income and autocall payments.

- Understand the risk to capital in the event of a counterparty default.
- Should they need to sell their investment, accept that the trading price will likely mean they get back less than they invested.
- Appreciate that income payments are conditional but understand that the memory feature can deliver previously missed income payments.

MOVEMENT IN THE UNDERLYINGS OVER THE PAST 16 YEARS

16 Year Back-Testing

Back-testing shows how the investment would have performed historically using data from previous potential strike dates and observations. Although past performance is not an indication of future performance, it can give a factual insight into how the investment would have performed historically.

This 16 year back-test shows the historical data for a full 10 years of 6 year products that could reach the full term.

Of the 2,501 scenarios tested, 2,076 would have autocalled paying the additional 2.00% p.a. snowballing coupon.

Every coupon observation has also been tested, and out of all scenarios tested, 88.92% of the available coupons would have been paid thanks to the Memory feature.
