Goldman Sachs
75-65 Memory Income Autocall January 2021
Factsheet

INVESTMENT DESCRIPTION

A 6 year investment linked to the performance of the Australian, UK, US and Taiwanese Indices.

If on any of the semi-annual observation dates, including the Final Observation date, the closing levels of all the Underlyings are at or above 75% of their initial levels, the income will be paid plus any previously missed income payments.

This investment will autocall and mature early if all Underlyings are equal to or above the Autocall Trigger on any semi-annual observation date starting at 24 months. If early maturity occurs, full capital is returned and the investment will end. If early maturity does not occur the investment will continue to the Final Observation date.

At the Final Observation date, if all Underlyings are at or above 65% of their initial levels, then full capital is returned. If any Underlying is below 65% of its original level, capital return will be reduced on a 1-for-1 basis. For example if the worst performing Underlying has fallen to 40% of its original level, 40% of the capital will be returned.

BENEFITS

- Opportunity for regular income payments even where the Underlyings show significant falls.
- A memory feature, whereby income previously unpaid, will be included when the income trigger is next activated.
- Autocall feature potentially shortens the investment term.
- Early maturity provides an opportunity to re-assess client's wealth strategy.
- Daily pricing.

RISKS

- The return is limited to the pre-defined investment terms.
- The income payment is conditional upon the Underlying performance.
- Investors will be exposed to the credit risk of the Issuer. If the Issuer becomes insolvent or cannot make the payments on the Product for any other reason, investors could lose some or all of their investment. A decline in the Issuers credit quality is likely to reduce the market value of the Product and therefore the price an investor may receive for the Product if they were to sell them in the market.
- There is a risk to capital should one of the Underlyings breach the capital protection barrier on its Final Observation date.
- Should investors need to sell their investment before maturity, the trading price will likely mean they get back less than they invested.

RATIONALE

Structured products are becoming increasingly popular for investors due to the wide variety of payoffs and levels of protection that can be achieved by the different types of structures that are available.

The opportunity for an income stream can be of key importance to investors as part of their wealth planning. The probability of an income payment being triggered is increased with this investment as an Underlying needs to show a fall of 25% from its initial level on any observation date before the income stream is disrupted.

The investment also benefits from a memory feature so that if any income payments have missed being paid, they will catch-up the next time all Underlyings are above 75% of their initial levels on an observation date.

The four Underlyings detailed overleaf have been selected in order to support the anticipated delivery of that income.

The autocall payoff can bring an early return of capital allowing the opportunity for a re-assessment of investment strategy. The value of this feature cannot be underestimated as it brings with it the opportunity to secure capital value, as well as the chance to take advantage of future market trends.

To manage the capital risk, a final level barrier set at 65% means an Underlying must fall by more than 35% over 6 years before capital is at risk.

- Understand the criteria which will determine the income payments.

- Understand the risk to capital in the event of a counterparty default.
- Should they need to sell their investment, accept that the trading price will likely mean they get back less than they invested.

16 YEAR BACK TESTING

Back-testing shows how the investment would have performed historically using data from previous potential strike dates and observations. Although past performance is not an indication of future performance, it can give a factual insight into how the investment would have performed historically.

This 16 year back-test shows the historical data for a full 10 years of 6 year products that could reach the full term.

Of the 2,501 scenarios tested, 17.99% would reach the full term without autocalling and none of these would have breached the 65% final level barrier.

Every coupon observation has also been tested, and out of all 2,501 scenarios tested, 99.77% of coupons would have been paid.
